

§2116. Court action after federal court has acted

Whenever a federal court finds that a prisoner in any penal institution in this State has been deprived of any of the rights guaranteed to the prisoner by the United States Constitution before, at or after the prisoner's trial, so that the judgment or sentence or both are erroneous and the court holds the case on its docket pending corrective action by the proper state official, the Attorney General may act as follows. The Attorney General may file a petition in the Superior Court of the county where the prisoner was tried and convicted in term time or with any justice of the court in vacation, setting forth the petition of the prisoner to the federal court and the decision of that court, and the Superior Court of conviction or any justice of the court in vacation shall then recall the judgment and sentence held erroneous and order it stricken from the records of the court and shall set the prisoner down for trial if in term time or bind the prisoner over to the next criminal term in the county if in vacation, after setting the prisoner's bail. If the sentence only is erroneous, the Superior Court of the county of conviction in term time or any justice of the court in vacation, on presentation of the Attorney General's petition, shall recall the erroneous sentence and order it stricken from the records and shall, in term time or in vacation, sentence the prisoner anew in accordance with the indictment against the prisoner. [RR 2023, c. 2, Pt. D, §77 (COR).]

SECTION HISTORY

RR 2023, c. 2, Pt. D, §77 (COR).

The State of Maine claims a copyright in its codified statutes. If you intend to republish this material, we require that you include the following disclaimer in your publication:

All copyrights and other rights to statutory text are reserved by the State of Maine. The text included in this publication reflects changes made through the Second Regular Session of the 131st Maine Legislature and is current through January 1, 2025. The text is subject to change without notice. It is a version that has not been officially certified by the Secretary of State. Refer to the Maine Revised Statutes Annotated and supplements for certified text.

The Office of the Revisor of Statutes also requests that you send us one copy of any statutory publication you may produce. Our goal is not to restrict publishing activity, but to keep track of who is publishing what, to identify any needless duplication and to preserve the State's copyright rights.

PLEASE NOTE: The Revisor's Office cannot perform research for or provide legal advice or interpretation of Maine law to the public. If you need legal assistance, please contact a qualified attorney.